DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-16 are pending in the application.

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-6, drawn to a method of identifying cancer specific marker genes, classified in class 536, subclass 24.5.
- II. Claims 7-10, drawn to a method of identifying genes overexpressed in lung cancer tissues, classified in class 435, subclass 455.
- III. Claims 11-16, drawn to a method of detecting a cancer or cancer progression in a patient by hybridization of a tumor specific oligonucleotide to a biological sample, classified in class 536, subclass 24.31.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other for following reasons.

The inventions of Groups I-III are patentably distinct from each other because they are drawn to methods that require different starting material and modes of operation. Each method has distinct steps to achieve distinct purposes. Therefore, the inventions of Groups I-III are patentably distinct.

Groups I-II are comprised of multiple inventions which are the methods drawn to independent sequences which do not render obvious each other and thus are patentably distinct. If any of Groups I-II are elected, applicants must elect a single invention which is the method drawn to one specific sequence to which the claims will be restricted. Note, this restriction to examination of a single sequence is due to the now very high and undue burden for examining more than one sequence which is caused by the continued exponential increase of size of the sequence databases to be searched for each sequence, resulting in a corresponding increase in computer search time and examiner time for reviewing the computer search results. Therefore, the limited resources of the Office no longer permit examination of more than one sequence in an application.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper. A search of the subject matter of one invention would not be co-extensive with a search of the other invention, and therefore the search would be burdensome. Each invention is capable of supporting a separate patent.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.
